

LETTER FROM THE RAEF PRESIDENT

Dear Donors,

This year RAEF is providing scholarships for thirteen university students. Three seniors will graduate at the end of this year with degrees in tourism, international relations, and electrical engineering. One junior is majoring in law and social sciences. Three sophomores are seeking degrees in electrical engineering, veterinary medicine, and architecture, and two are studying pharmacy. Four freshmen are studying public administration, law, English, and IT engineering.

Since the inception of the Ron Abney Educational Fund in 2013, forty-eight Takeo Orphanage students have graduated from university and are pursuing professional careers in Cambodia.

We are so proud of all of our higher education students and wish them continued success in their studies and their lives. And remember—your donations make all of this possible. Thank you!

*With gratitude,
Lee Darter
President

ENGLISH TUTORING

This past year our English tutor, RAEF class of 2018 graduate, Roeung Samphors, achieved two important milestones in his life. First, he received his master's degree. And second, he got married! We are so happy for and proud of this young man. Samphors continues to provide English lessons to our Takeo orphans even as he grows in his career and personal life.

MENTOR FOR MEDICAL STUDENTS

Dr. Sien Samphors, a former Takeo orphan who completed her medical degree in 2020 with financial support from the RAEF, has joined our volunteer staff in Cambodia as a mentor for our two pharmacy students. We are grateful to have Dr. Sien Samphors on board and look forward to working with her.

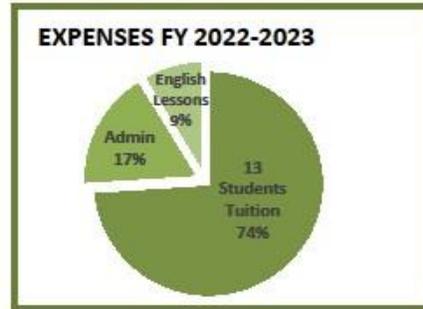

American Art Teachers Visit Takeo Orphanage

On two separate occasions this year, the children at Takeo Orphanage were treated to free art lessons, compliments of American art teachers currently working at international schools in Cambodia. The two women learned about the orphanage through their professional interactions with RAEF president Lee Darter, who is an elementary school art teacher in Georgia. Lee and the RAEF co-financed the purchase of art supplies and snacks for the children to enjoy during their lessons. The children had a delightful time painting and drawing and are hopeful there will be more art lessons at the orphanage in their futures.
